

VALUE OF CROPS INCREASED

Rise of About 182 Per Cent Reported By U. S. Census Bureau.

The total value of all farm crops in the United States increased approximately 182 per cent during the years 1909 and 1919, according to a report issued recently by the U. S. Census Bureau of the Department of Commerce. During this same period the farm crops in Missouri increased in value 165 per cent.

The value of the crops in the United States in 1909 was $5,231,850,683 as compared with $14,755,358,407 in 1919. Missouri crops in 1909 were worth $211,001,359 as compared with a value of $559,947,854 in 1919. These increases in value do not represent increased production entirely, but are caused by a combination of increased production and low value of money in 1919.

The Fight's All Over, Men!

Flat on the sun-blistered sand, sizzling lead overhead, a merciless sun gazing down disinterestedly from a brassy sky, the angry bark of the .45—

These formed the theme of Frederick Remington's masterpiece of the Golden West—"The Fight at the Waterhole."

A Local Remington Could Well Have Painted Another

Picture during the past few days, entitling it "The Jam at the University Oasis." Palms refreshments and confections have been in as great demand as ever were the rare watering places of the great West. Both spell quietude, comfort and ease. We have tried our best to maintain our customary standards of service although at more critical moments we were forced to lower our standards of speed.

Tomorrow We Hope It Will Be Different

We are installing today a fountain of double capacity, the acme of the confectioner designers art and with our re-enforcement will be able to give you even better service than ever before. On your way to or from the links, after the theater, between classes—
